Business overview

Verse Wealth is helping people achieve their individual ambitions through a new approach of personalised financial advice.

We're experts in financial planning and investment advice, seeking to deliver value to all areas of your financial life. Our advice is comprehensive and holistic, ensuring that clients receive the advice they need based on their own unique circumstances and future plans.

Where they learned about Happy HR?

Verse Wealth used to be in the same office as Happy HR and we had the pleasure of meeting the CEO and the team in the hallways. We built some great relationships with HappyHR and were very impressed by the HR expertise they brought to small businesses including us.

What were the challenges of your HR before getting Happy HR?

We started working with Happy HR before we had any staff, recognising that the HR piece was important and wanting to have the correct processes in place from the outset. Happy HR allowed us to effectively outsource this entire function so that we could remain focused on building the business in those early days and achieving the success we have today.

How do you find using Happy HR?

At the back end, the Happy HR platform is extremely easy to use. More importantly the team is always there at the end of the phone with the expertise we need around HR. This lets us focus on doing what we do best - working with clients and focusing on our company culture.

Can you imagine life without Happy HR?

Yes - it would be a life with time needlessly spent on processes that don't generate the outcomes we want in our business! We're very well supported by HappyHR so it's a win-win for us.
